2. ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

Sahara Jan Kalyan Samiti is a committed grassroots non-governmental and non-profit voluntary organization established on 19 October 2004 by a team of dedicated professionals from diverse disciplines. The organization works towards empowering marginalized, tribal, rural, and underprivileged communities through participatory and community-driven development approaches.

With 20+ years of field experience, Sahara conceptualizes, develops, implements, and supports innovative development strategies aimed at improving education, health, sanitation, livelihood, environment, women empowerment, youth development, and social justice across 12 districts of Madhya Pradesh and beyond.

3. VISION, MISSION & PHILOSOPHY

VISION	MISSION	PHILOSOPHY: THE TREE
To build a world-class social development organization creating an equitable, inclusive, healthy, and empowered society — free from discrimination, poverty, and inequality.	Empower communities through sustainable development interventions in education, health, livelihood, women empowerment, environment, renewable energy, youth development, and social justice while strengthening community participation and institutional capacity.	"The planting of trees is the least self-centered of all that we do. Someone enjoys the shade and fruits today because someone planted a tree a long time ago."

4. ORGANIZATIONAL VALUES

QUALITY	CARING	PARTICIPATION	TRANSPARENCY
Excellence through research, innovation, continuous improvement, transparency, accountability, and professional management systems.	Committed to serving communities with empathy, compassion, dignity, and respect for every individual.	Sustainable development is possible only through active community participation and ownership.	Maintaining transparency, accountability, and ethical governance in all organizational processes and programs.
